June 2nd, 2020 — Preliminary Remarks

The United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG) has been recognized as the most successful attempt to unify a broad area of mercantile law at the international level. The CISG has been incorporated into the internal law of participating countries to provide a uniform sales law for international sales contracts.

Uniform Sales Law

The CISG is the product of a diplomatic conference convened in Vienna from March 10 to April 11, 1980, by the Secretary General of the United Nations acting upon a resolution of the UN General Assembly from December 16, 1978.

Uniform Rules with Respect to International Mercantile Transactions

The CISG was incorporated into the internal Israeli law by the sales law international sale of goods 5760-1999, which came into effect on February 5, 2000.

For international sales contracts concluded prior to that date, the previous laws, such as the 1964 Hague Convention on Sales and Formation, would continue to apply.

The CISG was developed by the United Nations, and its uniform rules provide a set of mercantile rules with respect to international transactions.
